THE Goebel Law is the most fitting conument that GOEBEL could have.

THE Republicans of Kentucky will know what is in store for them within the next few days; and whatever the result, they will accept it like men.

IF, after all the time that has clapsed is to be found in Frankfort, or even in the United States, he must be a luna-tic. As a rule, criminals embrace every opportunity to travel.

If one should undertake to give a chromo to each one of the Goebel murderers that has been discovered by the Thomas Cromwell Campbell & Dee Armstrong Company, one would have to start a chromo foundry.

ONE of the funny features of the Frankfort farce is that so many of the murderers of Senator Goebel, not only do not try to run away, but that they put themselves to extra frouble to lumi up the officers who have warrants for them, surrender themselves and will-ingular set. Ed.
